

Dr. Taku Onishi

He is a quantum chemist, and is working as an assistant professor of Mie University, Japan. He graduated from Osaka University in 1998, and got PhD from Osaka University, Japan in 2003. He has been a guest researcher of University of Oslo, Norway since 2010.

*Conference

Every year in Greece, he has been organizing International Conference of Computational Methods in Sciences and Engineering (ICCMSE). He has also been a chair of the main symposium “Computational Chemistry” in ICCMSE.

*Editorial board:

Journal of Computational Methods in Sciences and Engineering (JCMSE), IOS press

Cogent Chemistry, Taylor & Francis)

Cogent Engineering, Taylor & Francis)

*Book:

“Quantum Computational Chemistry, Modelling and Calculation for Functional Materials”

Springer Nature, 2018